State Policy and the Exercise of the Power of Eminent Domain Summary Eminent domain is the power of a government to take private property for public use. The Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution requires that government exercising this power must provide just compensation to the property owner., Abstract The concept of public participation is one of growing interest in the UK and elsewhere, with a commensurate growth in mechanisms to enable this. The merits of participation, however, are difficult to ascertain, as there are relatively few cases in which the effectiveness of participation exercises have been studied in a structured (as opposed to highly subjective) manner.,
